

About LHH

At LHH, we exist to help people, teams, and organizations find and prepare for what's next.

Our end-to-end HR solutions future-proof organizations and careers all over the world.

Through Advisory, Career Transition & Mobility, Insights, Learning & Development, and Recruitment Solutions, we enable transformation, and our job is never done because there's always another tomorrow to prepare for.

We make a difference to everyone we work with, and we do it with local expertise, backed by a global infrastructure and industry-leading technology.

LHH's over 8,000 colleagues and coaches span 66 countries worldwide, working with more than 15,000 organizations, a majority of Fortune Global 500, and nearly 500,000 candidates each year.

Together we address needs across the entire talent journey, helping organizations build their capabilities and individuals build brighter futures. There is a world of opportunity out there.

Let's get to work.

LHH is a part of the Adecco Group, the world's leading talent advisory and solutions company, headquartered in Zurich, Switzerland.

To learn more, please visit lhh.com

Introduction

2024 Outlook

Employers are continuing to adapt to the changes brought about by inflation and conflicts in Europe and the Middle East – including remote and hybrid working, talent shortages, economic headwinds and the possibility of recession.

It is more crucial now than ever to understand the economic trends impacting hiring, retention, and wages.

Employers competing for professionals need the best information to offer competitive salaries that attract and retain talent. Talent looking for new professional opportunities need a clear benchmark to position themselves appropriately on a competitive job market.

